MEDIA KIT 2024

Founded in 1973, Delaware Humanities is Delaware's independent, nonprofit affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Our organization provides educational and cultural opportunities to people and communities in all three counties through original programming and grants. We work to help Delawareans gain a deeper understanding of human identity, intellectual achievement, diverse cultures, and our shared heritage.
MISSION & VISION

Delaware Humanities strengthen our communities by connecting Delawareans through the diversity of human experiences. We envision a Delaware where the respectful exchange of ideas empowers a flourishing democracy.

OUR TEAM

Delaware Humanities is a staff of six with a leadership board of twenty-five. Our board members reside and/or work in all three of our state's counties and have strong ties to their communities.

OUR SERVICES

We offer funding to organizations to help assist them with humanities-related projects happening in our state. We also provide program resources and partner with organizations to bring the humanities to the public.

WHY HUMANITIES?

The humanities help us understand human history, culture, community and beliefs. We explore how people have created their world and they in turn have been formed by the world around them. The humanities are critical, speculative, and reflective. They help us to understand our lives and the lives of others.
